1	anonymous	The school is small and nurturing and treats each child equal but not the same which when you have a child with SEN then this is important. The dedication teachers show with extra curricular activities is also amazing.
2	anonymous	Supports children in their learning and development. My child comes home telling us everything he has done in phonics and shows us this reading at home.
3	anonymous	My kids are happy. The teachers are kind and caring.
4	anonymous	My daughter really enjoys the sports and school clubs.
5	anonymous	I think water primary is a lovely family school. Teachers and TA's support my children to be the best they can be. There are lots of sporting activities for my eldest child to do and hopefully will continue to be as my youngest goes though school. Both my children are happy to come to school every day which is so important to our family.

8	anonymous	I am very happy with how my son is doing at Water School. Miss Lomas is very approachable if we were to have any issues.
9	anonymous	The mixed age learning groups, as a smaller school it is more one to one support, the year 6 buddy is amazing and my daughter loves her buddy. The teachers are open and approachable
10	anonymous	The school is truly amazing all round, keeps me informed about what is going on at school and what events are taking place, cannot fault the school at all and [REDACTED] thriving and doing amazingly
11	anonymous	Everything!!
12	anonymous	We have really liked every single teacher my children have had, we can see the care and warmth from the teachers and they know my children really well which is a great comfort. The teachers are also honest which I appreciate. They always have plenty of time for us when we have needed to chat about anything. They organised family support and helped my children work on their individuality as they are twins. My children have had chance to do extra curricular activities such as young voices and a dance show which one of my children joined in with and felt proud of himself. Very approachable staff and happy to let my boys follow own interests such as reading our own library books at home, which has really helped improve their vocabulary and learning. Thank you Water School!
13	anonymous	The staff are fantastic. They are caring and supportive and the whole environment is nurturing. They are inclusive and communication is great.

		nurturing, they are inclusive and communication is great.
14	anonymous	I feel the school provides a generally positive environment for learning, and the staff work hard to support the children's progress.
15	anonymous	It's easy to speak with the teachers each day. There is clear visibility of the staff. I like the information in the weekly newsletter and parent pay makes life easier.
16	anonymous	The school works hard to ensure each individual child and their families are supported.
17	anonymous	Absolutely everything. Every child is known well by all the staff not just their class teachers
18	anonymous	Absolutely everything. I love the school, love all the teachers I have been in contact with. My son LOVES school. I cannot praise them enough. Tommy is thriving with his learning, he tells us new things every day what he has learned that day, he absolutely loves his after school activities and breakfast club! Thank you so much to every teacher that teaches Tommy!
19	anonymous	As the best teachers , you all truly care about the children. You make sure each child can see they parents, .

1	anonymous	More male teachers
2	anonymous	Pushing the higher achievers.
3	anonymous	The communication for reception class/younger children, it would be really useful to have some sort of tool to communicate with the teacher when they are so young. I understand in the past things like dojo have been abused by parents but in those younger years I think that small amount of daily communication can be very important. I appreciate that we can talk to the staff at arrival and dismissal- but this is not always possible.
4	anonymous	More sports
5	anonymous	Better communication with parents (like class dojo)
6	anonymous	So far I haven't seen anything to improve
7	anonymous	No
8	anonymous	higher expectations for the children who are average

9	anonymous	Teachers amazing however children complained about dinner ladies which I have just shared with teachers at parents evening last night.
10	anonymous	No.
11	anonymous	The school does many things well, but there may be opportunities to strengthen communication with parents to encourage a more consistent approach to supporting pupils individual needs. Continued focus on communication and individual support would help build even stronger relationships between the school and families.
12	anonymous	I would be happy for my children to be set homework so I know what I can do at home to help. Not so much for them to do extra work, more of a guide for me to know what questions or activities I can do to complement what they're currently learning or for revision.
13	anonymous	No
14	anonymous	I cannot think of anything, my experience so far has been fantastic
15	anonymous	Communication, I feel there is a of. I don't know what my child does from week to week
16	anonymous	No . . . excellent school.
